DETAILED ACTION

In response to the amendment dated cancelling claims 1-12 and introducing new claims 13-46.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

1. This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 13-27, drawn to a method to obtain an immunotherapeutic agent that contains cell wall fragments from a virulent Mycobacterium tuberculosis-complex (MTB-C) strain of cells.

Group II, claim(s) 28-34, and 38-43, drawn to a lyophilized immunotherapeutic agent and a pharmaceutical agent that contain cell wall fragments from a virulent MTB-C strain of cells.

Group III, claim(s) 34-37 and 44-46, drawn to a method for the combined treatment of tuberculosis comprising administering an immunotherapeutic agent that contains cell wall fragments from a virulent MTB-C strain of cells in combination with at least one drug suitable for the treatment of tuberculosis.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

According to PCT Rule 13.2, unity of invention exists only when a shared same or corresponding special technical feature is a contribution over the prior art. The technical feature, which is shared by Groups I-III is cell wall fragments from a virulent MTB-C strain.

Groups I-III do not share a special technical feature over the art because the inventions lack an inventive step under PCT Article 33(3) as being obvious over U.S. Patent Application Publication 2002/0094336; filed Feb. 20, 2001), that describes polypeptide fragments derived from M. tuberculosis as immunological compositions such as vaccines, that include cell wall fragments (Title, Abstract and claim 36).

The claims in Groups I-III are drawn to a distinct product, and methods, requiring non-coextensive search and examination. Thus, it follows from the preceding analysis that the claimed inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding technical features for the reasons set forth above.

2. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

A specifically named species of MTB-C strain, as defined on p. 1, lines 12-14 of the specification.

A specifically named non-ionic surfactant, as recited in claims 15 and 23.

A specifically named liposome auxiliary lipid, as recited in claims 31-33 and 40-42.

A specifically named drug, as recited in claims 37 and 46.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Claims 13, 28, 29, 35, 38, 44 and claims dependent therefrom correspond to all the species listed above.

The following claim(s) are generic: 13-46.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: As the technical features (M. tuberculosis, bovis, microti, africanum, alkylphenol ethoxylates, ethoxylated sorbitan esters, phosphatidylcholine, phosphatidylserine, phosphatidylinositol, cholesterol, billiard salts, isoniazid and rifampicin) linking the members do not constitute a special technical feature as defined by PCT Rule 13.2, particularly since each of the species is structurally and likely functionally distinct, and does not share a substantially common structural feature, the requirement for unity of invention is not fulfilled.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
